

The Greatest Story Ever Pitched by Tom Moran

JEAN, any gender, 20's-30's

Everything gets reviewed now. Amazon has ratings for bags of cotton balls. People make entries in Yelp about gas stations.

So why not this?

A weekly column. I worked out the criteria. Ferocity of the sermon. Rhythm of the choir. How vibrant are the vestments, how clean the stained glass, how good the soundproofing for the kids' section. Do they have bells? How do they resonate?

And, of course, validity of the belief system. Trustworthiness and relatability of their deity or deities. Pros and cons of their afterlife, for righteous and wicked. Minus points for intolerance, easily disproven or contradictory tenets, stale communion wafers, and any sort of tithing.

This sells papers. What is the one true faith? Pick up Monday's edition to find out.
